Overall, the group worked well together throughout the Practice Journey, they got to know one another better, had fun and communicated with each other and the guides.

They encountered a few challenges throughout, as noted in their debrief. Mainly they didn't realize how physically demanding it is to travel in the snow with snowshoes on. Everyone learnt a lot, asked good questions, supported one another and took initiative. The group was successful preparing and practicing the required skills to be successful on their QJ. They maintained a positive attitude throughout, did a good job bonding as a new team and overcame some challenges. The team is ready to embark on their QJ tomorrow and will continue to test their teamwork and outdoor skills and abilities.

Assessor's Report: Please provide comments on the improvement, challenge and effort of the group throughout the Journey (if this is an assessment for the Practice Journey, please verify if the group is ready to start their Qualifying Journey). The team did an excellent job on their QJ and successfully completed their goal! During their debrief they were able to each share what they learnt and what stood out about the experience. For all of them this was their first time coming together as a team and winter camping which meant they all overcame a lot of obstacles (mental, emotional and physical). They worked well together by communicating throughout, speaking up about personal needs and supporting one another when needed. I was particularly impressed by their drive to learn and push through the harder parts.

The group shared leadership and responsibilities they also did a good job supporting one another through struggles. Excellent work everyone on your first winter camping excursion!
